

SEPTEMBER 2024

CITL WEBSITE

MONTHLY TRAININGS

RSVP for professional development events by selecting the title of the session and completing the RSVP form.

AI Opportunities & Challenges with Dr. Kevin Yee, UCF

Thursday 5th

Bldg. 400, Rm. 308 and Zoom

2:00 - 3:15 p.m.

Generative AI presents a large disruption in teaching, with both positive and negative side effects. We'll review how assignments need to change, as well as discuss ways AI can bring benefits to faculty as teachers. We will also address specific strategies to instill AI fluency in our students.

New Faculty Series

Monday 9th

Bldg. 500, Rm. 210

2:00 - 4:00 p.m.

New faculty will be matched with a mentor and introduced to important topics essential for starting a successful academic year.

AI Roundtable

Wednesday 11th

Bldg. 500, Rm. 210 and Zoom

2:00 - 3:00 p.m.

Join the AI Fellows for a discussion that will inform their policy-building workshop with the Academic Affairs department.

Portfolio: Letter of Intent

Tuesday 24th & Wednesday 25th Bldg. 500, Rm. 210

2:00 - 3:00 p.m.

Instructors up for Continuing Contract can attend this training to craft their letter of intent and learn the next steps in the Continuing Contract process.

FACULTY FELLOWS

Applications Due September 5th!

The Faculty Fellows Program aims to prepare and inspire faculty to develop and teach online courses that model best practices in the field of instructional technology and online education.

Review an outline of the program and apply here.

If you have any questions, please contact the CITL at CITL@nwfsc.edu or 850-729-6464